

?Dialysis 101? Recording Now Available!

The DPC Education Center kicked off its 2016 education call series last Thursday on a topic important to all kidney disease patients: Dialysis 101. Debbie Cote, a nephrology nurse and administrator for several facilities in Virginia, was our featured presenter. She covered all aspects of the dialysis treatment including access types, how the machine works, and what labs to monitor during and after treatment. If you were unable to listen to the call live, the recording is now available for viewing below. Additionally, be sure to join us for the next education call ?Transplant 101? scheduled on February 17 at 3:00 PM Eastern.
